

TEACHING EARLY CHILDHOOD AND CHILDHOOD EDUCATION, MAT

The Teaching Early Childhood and Childhood Education graduate program leading to a Master of Arts in Teaching offers an integrated combination of rigorous academic study and clinically rich fieldwork focusing on the needs of all young learners. The program culminates in a dual degree in early childhood and childhood education and prepares students to teach children from birth through grade 6. The program offers a 12-month, full-time and part-time course of study, combining hybrid and online courses.

The dual degree is intended to develop high performing, skilled, and passionate educator practitioners who advocate for their students, understanding the developmental range, needs, and challenges of young learners, in alignment with NYSED Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Framework. MAT candidates will become well-versed in all aspects of children's learning, developing the content skills and pedagogy to motivate, teach, and help all students achieve their potential. This program develops teachers' understanding of the urgent mission to develop equity based, safe environments in our classrooms and schools for all children to thrive. MAT graduates will be well-positioned to make a difference in the lives of the children they teach.
