

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT MINOR

The 18-credit minor in Emergency Management allows students to explore the value of emergency planning and preparation for natural or man-made disasters and crises. Students will use activities to review the strategies used by various local, state, and federal organizations on response, mitigation, and recovery efforts when dealing with small to large scale emergencies and disasters. These activities will present students with real-world strategies developed to protect lives, property, and the environment.

Best Fit Major: Criminal Justice
